

EMILY ROUSH-ELLIOTT

SOCIAL IMPACT ARCHITECT

EDUCATION

University of Cincinnati

Master of Architecture, 2011

Arizona State University

Bachelor of Science in Design, 2007
Major Architecture, Minor Business

EXPERIENCE

Carl Small Town Center and Greenwood-Leflore Economic Development Foundation
Greenwood, Mississippi

Enterprise Rose Architectural Fellow, Current Leadership in design, green affordable housing and community engagement; project management

BHDP Architecture
Cincinnati, Ohio

Architectural Intern, 2012 Preparation of construction documents and presentations, general project support

University of Cincinnati, DAAP
Cincinnati, Ohio

Adjunct Faculty, 2012
Humans and Global Sustainability instructor

Village Life Outreach Project
Cincinnati, Ohio and Tanzania

Project Manager and Committee Chair, 2010 and 2012
Roche Health Center project management from schematic design through construction, coordination of committee toward the completion of building projects, education and global awareness

Burgess and Niple
Cincinnati, Ohio

Intern, 2009
Construction drawing and editing, LEED AP consultant, rendering and BIM modeling

Gulf Coast Community
Design Studio
Biloxi, Mississippi

Design and Construction Volunteer, 2008 Hurricane resistant residential new and rehabilitation construction and design

MORE

Professional Credentials

Registered Architect in Ohio and Mississippi
LEED AP BD+C

Computer Skills

AutoCAD, Archi-CAD, Adobe Creative Suite, ArcGIS, Sketch-up, Revit, Microstation, and Microsoft Office

Leadership Commitment

Emily leads and supports partnerships to realize the completion of equity building projects in the US and abroad. Beyond the traditional roles of architects, Emily specializes in engaging communities, impacting policy, maximizing funding and supporting operations of completed built works to provide leadership in the field of public interest design.

CONTACT

emily@deltadb.org

architecture-equality.com